

Social and Personal.

THE banquet given to the druggists' convention and their wives in the Jefferson auditorium on Wednesday evening was a most beautiful entertainment. About 568 people were present. The hall was decorated in pink and white, with groups of beautiful palms and ropes of smilax.

The head table, at which the toastmaster and guests of honor were seated, extended across a raised dais in the true old English fashion at the upper end of the auditorium, and was ornamented with ovals of pink roses, fringed with maidenhair ferns, and was screened by a curtain of pink and white dahlias.

The other guests were seated at small tables, and in the center of each was a graceful vase of pink roses. The entire banquet hall presented a most attractive and brilliant appearance, the exquisite gowns and fair faces of the women and sparkling wit of the toasts lending added zest to the occasion.

Reception at the Mansion.

One of the most brilliant affairs given to the members of the convention of the National Wholesale Druggists' Association and their wives was the reception at the Governor's Mansion last evening. The house was beautifully decorated with palms and roses, and an orchestra, playing a selection of beautiful airs, furnished music during the evening. Decorations in the blue parlor, where Mrs. Swanson received her guests, consisted of pink roses and festoons of smilax. The dining-room had a beautiful centerpiece of American Beauties, with vases of the same on the mantelpiece and tables.

Mrs. Swanson wore an exquisite robe of Irish crochet over chiffon and white satin, and carried American Beauties. She was assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar D. Taylor, Mrs. Granville G. Valentine, Mrs. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Hugh Taylor, the members of the Governor's staff and the entertainment committee.

A number of the Richmond people were also present, and Mrs. Swanson's guests numbered between three and four hundred people.

Dickinson-Lechr.
The approaching wedding of Miss Elizabeth Bertha Lechr, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Charles Theodore Lechr, to Bernard Lee Dickinson, Esq., has been announced. Miss Lechr is well known socially, and has been identified as an active member of various Confederate organizations. The groom, Mr. Dickinson, is a member of one of the most prominent families of Louisiana. The wedding will be celebrated quietly at the home of the bride's parents on Wednesday, October 20.

Through the Valley.
Miss Mary Johnston and her sister, Miss Eloise Johnston, leave to-day for a driving trip through the Valley of Virginia, which is just now resplendent in its brilliant autumn colors. They expect to be gone about ten days or two weeks.

Choral Club.
To meet the demand of a number of young women interested in music who have expressed a desire to form a choral club, the Young Women's Christian Association has arranged with Miss Rex, a teacher of music in the public schools, to devote an evening a week to such a club.

All young women who would like to study chorus music are invited to meet Miss Rex at the Y. W. C. A., 709 East Franklin Street, Friday, October 15, at 8 P. M. Miss Rex has held a number of responsible positions, and is a capable director.

University Students Return.

Wedding in Charlotte.
A wedding of interest in the State is that of Miss Lucy Grattan Robertson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson, formerly of Virginia, now of Charlotte, N. C., to Harvey Wilson Moore, which took place on Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents.

Mrs. C. S. Alton, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and carried an effective brooch of white chiffon, and carried a scarf of Killarney roses. Frank Moore attended the groom as his best man.

The bride entered the drawing-room on the arm of her father and was handsomely gowned in white satin, with trimming of duchess lace. Her veil was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

A reception followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Moore took a train for the North.

Guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fargo, Augusta, Ga.; Miss Cornelia Somerville, Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Alexander, Montgomery, Ala.; Frank Moore, Augusta, Ga.; Jas. Moore, Augusta; Edgeworth Lamplin, Athens, Ga.; Misses Sarah and Susie Robertson, Staunton, Va.; Mrs. Charles E. Johnson, Raleigh, N. C.; Mr. and LUNEBURG COURT.

Several Cases of Interest Prolong the Session.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
[LUNEBURG C. H., Va., October 14.—The October term of court for this county convened here on Monday and has been in session since, and will last several days longer.

The docket is larger than in years, and includes eight criminal cases, which have attracted large crowds and created much interest. Two of these cases were for murder, one against Pompey Nebbett and the other against Willie Hurt. The former was acquitted, and the latter convicted of murder in the second degree, with a verdict for ten years in the penitentiary. The Commonwealth was represented by W. E. Nebbett and the prisoners by W. Moneure Gravatt, of Blackstone.

Another case of great interest was that of Mrs. William Hargis vs. W. P. Kennedy et al., in which a large part of the town of Kenbridge is interested. The land upon which Kenbridge is built was sold and conveyed by William Hargis, deceased, and his widow did not unite in the deed, and she is

Remarkable Cure

A Texas Lady Writes:

"Words cannot express my gratitude to Cardui," writes Mrs. M. J. Scott, of Wellborn, Tex. "It has been the means of saving my life. I took it according to directions, and I am now a well woman and do all of my own work."

"The lump in my right side has entirely disappeared, although several physicians said I could never recover without a surgical operation. Everybody thinks it a remarkable cure."

"Before I took Cardui I suffered the most excruciating pain that anyone ever experienced and had almost given up to hopeless despair. What Cardui did for me it will do for others. I will continue to praise it as long as I live, for I consider it the finest medicine ever discovered, for all female ailments."

Cardui has achieved wonderful success in chronic cases of womanly ills, similar to that of Mrs. Scott.

Prepared according to a prescription of known merit in such diseases, from rare ingredients largely imported direct from Europe, Cardui has stood the severest of all tests—the test of TIME.

For 50 years it has been helping sick women back to health. We wish that you would let it help you.

In addition to its specific action upon the womanly organs, Cardui has the further advantage of being a building, strengthening, vitalizing, reconstructive tonic, of special value to weak, worn-out, over-worked women.

It builds up the constitution and helps to restore lost nervous energy and force.

Try Cardui. Your druggist keeps it.
